

UKTR Policy

Ensuring traceability from the forest to the floor.

At Timba Floors & Boards, we ensure every square meter of flooring we put our name to is fully compliant with the United Kingdom Timber Regulation (UKTR). This standard is essential for preserving our plant's long term sustainability, ensuring all timber is fully traceable back to the exact forest the tree that produced your floor came from. To summarize, the UKTR chain of custody is designed to ensure your flooring is fully traceable from the forest to your floor.
